Charleston Girl Perfume – The Right Scent

Charleston native, Kelly Gaskins loves her hometown and loves fragrance. These passions led her to create a scent unique to the Holy City: Charleston Girl Perfume. Charleston Girls are naturally smart, sexy and sophisticated and exude a confidence and charisma that lights up any room. Mix that with a sweet southern flair and you have an unmatched combination.

Creating a fragrance is extremely intricate and detailed, and Kelly worked closely with a chemist that mixed the different oils she wanted to use. It took over a year of testing different scents and having a test panel try each new batch before Kelly found just the right scent, inspired by Charleston's unique Southern Belles and by the beautiful city itself. Perfect for our hot, sticky summers, Charleston Girl is light, fresh and fun. People who are sensitive to fragrance love this subtle scent.

Kelly's unique scent is available in local shops. Visit www.CharlestonGirlPerfume.com for more information and a list of retailers.

Farm-fresh produce, homemade bread and even children's clothing will be available every Thursday, from 4 pm until dusk at the Daniel Island Farmers Market. The market is located on Island Park Dr., across from the Publix shopping center.
